SUBJECT: Policy Coordinating Committees

NSPD-1 established 17 Policy Coordinating Committees (PCCs) to serve as the main day-to-day fora for interagency coordination of national security policy. It also established a procedure for creating additional PCCs as appropriate. At the direction of the President and in consultation with the Vice President and the Secretaries of State, Treasury and Defense, I have established four additional PCCs.

- International Organized Crime. This PCC will coordinate policy formulation, program oversight, and new initiatives relating to the range of international crime issues not directly part of the counter-terrorism portfolio, including: arms trafficking, intellectual property theft, international fraud, drug trafficking, money laundering, trafficking in women and children, alien smuggling, diamond smuggling and foreign official corruption. (Chair: NSC Senior Director for Transnational Threats)
- Contingency Planning. This PCC will manage the interagency process for reviewing Annex V's and producing political-military plans, and plan for contingencies outside the deliberate planning cycle. (Co-Chairs: NSC Senior Director for Defense Policy and NSC Senior Director for Democracy, Human Rights and International Organizations)
- Space. This PCC will focus on cross-cutting, space-related national security issues that require coordination and leadership across agencies. (Chair: NSC Senior Director for Defense Policy)
- HIV/AIDS and Infectious Diseases. The global AIDS crisis has prompted an increasing number of agencies to establish HIV/AIDS and infectious disease policies and programs. This PCC will focus on the international aspects of HIV/AIDS and other epidemic and infectious diseases. It will coordinate across agencies on issues such as education and prevention, care and treatment, research and development, resource mobilization, drug access and health infrastructure, to ensure a comprehensive approach that is consistent with overall foreign policy goals. (Co-Chairs: State and Health and Human Services)

NSPD-1 also provides that existing NSC interagency groups, ad hoc bodies and executive committees, except for those established by statute, are abolished unless they are specifically reestablished as subordinate working groups within the new NSC system. The attachment at Tab A identifies those existing interagency groups that are abolished, with their functions assumed by one of the new PCCs; existing groups that will continue to function as a subgroup of a PCC; and existing groups that will continue to function and report independently to the Deputies Committee.

Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs
